Obama: The Affirmative Action President

by Matt Patterson (columnist: Washington Post, New York Post, San Francisco Examiner) in The Washington Post

Years from now, historians may regard the 2008 election of Barack Obama as an inscrutable and disturbing phenomenon, a baffling breed of mass hysteria akin perhaps to the witch craze of the Middle Ages. How, they will wonder, did a man so devoid of professional accomplishment beguile so many into thinking he could manage the world's largest economy, direct the world's most powerful military, execute the world's most consequential job?

Imagine a future historian examining Obama's pre-presidential life: ushered into and through the Ivy League despite unremarkable grades and test scores along the way; a cushy non-job as a "community organizer"; a brief career as a state legislator devoid of legislative achievement (and in fact nearly devoid of his attention, so often did he vote "present"); and finally an unaccomplished single term in the United States Senate, the entirety of which was devoted to his presidential ambitions. He left no academic legacy in academia, authored no signature legislation as a legislator

And then there is the matter of his troubling associations: the white-hating, America-loathing preacher who for decades served as Obama's "spiritual mentor"; a real-life, actual terrorist who served as Obama's colleague and political sponsor. It is easy to imagine a future historian looking at it all and asking: how on Earth was such a man elected president?

Not content to wait for history, the incomparable Norman Podhoretz addressed the question recently in the Wall Street Journal:

To be sure, no white candidate who had close associations with an outspoken hater of America like Jeremiah Wright and an unrepentant terrorist like Bill Ayers, would have lasted a single day. But because Mr. Obama was black, and therefore entitled in the eyes of liberaldom to have hung out with protesters against various American injustices, even if they were a bit extreme, he was given a pass.

Let that sink in: Obama was given a pass -- held to a lower standard -- because of the color of his skin. Podhoretz continues:

And in any case, what did such ancient history matter when he was also so articulate and elegant and (as he himself had said) "non-threatening," all of which gave him a fighting chance to become the first black president and thereby to lay the curse of racism to rest?

Podhoretz puts his finger, I think, on the animating pulse of the Obama phenomenon -- affirmative action. Not in the legal sense, of course. But certainly in the motivating sentiment behind all affirmative action laws and regulations, which are designed primarily to make white people, and especially white liberals, feel good about themselves.

Unfortunately, minorities often suffer so that whites can pat themselves on the back. Liberals routinely admit minorities to schools for which they are not qualified, yet take no responsibility for the inevitable poor performance and high drop-out rates which follow. Liberals don't care if these minority students fail; liberals aren't around to witness the emotional devastation and deflated self-esteem resulting from the racist policy that is affirmative action. Yes, racist.

Holding someone to a separate standard merely because of the color of his skin -- that's affirmative action in a nutshell, and if that isn't racism, then nothing is. And that is what America did to Obama.

True, Obama himself was never troubled by his lack of achievements, but why would he be? As many have noted, Obama was told he was good enough for Columbia despite undistinguished grades at Occidental; he was told he was good enough for the US Senate despite a mediocre record in Illinois; he was told he was good enough to be president despite no record at all in the Senate. All his life, every step of the way, Obama was told he was good enough for the next step, in spite of ample evidence to the contrary. What could this breed if not the sort of empty narcissism on display every time Obama speaks?

In 2008, many who agreed that he lacked executive qualifications nonetheless raved about Obama's oratory skills, intellect, and cool character. Those people -- conservatives included -- ought now to be deeply embarrassed. The man thinks and speaks in the hoariest of clichés, and that's when he has his teleprompter in front of him; when the prompter is absent he can barely think or speak at all. Not one original idea has ever issued from his mouth -- it's all warmed-over Marxism of the kind that has failed over and over again for 100 years.

And what about his character? Obama is constantly blaming anything and everything else for his troubles. Bush did it; it was bad luck; I inherited this mess. It is embarrassing to see a president so willing to advertise his own powerlessness, so comfortable with his own incompetence. But really, what were we to expect? The man has never been responsible for anything, so how do we expect him to act responsibly?

In short: our president is a small and small-minded man, with neither the temperament nor the intellect to handle his job. When you understand that, and only when you understand that, will the current erosion of liberty and prosperity make sense. It could not have gone otherwise with such a man in the Oval Office.

Game Dinner 2012: Fine Fare Fills Plates

by John Cull

On Sunday, March 14th, our Club held its annual Game Dinner. Our hunters and fishermen shared their bounty with us to provide an excellent feast, which was enjoyed by over 130 members and guests who attended.

Our chefs met Saturday, reviewed the variety of game, pulled out the right recipes, and got cooking. And what a variety we had: duck, goose, clams, tuna, trout, turkey, and all kinds of venison. We made over 20 different menu items to satisfy the palates of those familiar with great game and please the taste buds of some younger ladies and gentlemen who experienced their first wild game dinner.

CPF&G Club is fortunate and proud to be able to continue the tradition of providing this event, at no cost, to our members and guests. Everyone who attended our Game Dinner shares our commitment to responsible wildlife management. The great success of this dinner is the result of the contributions, donations and service of many people. Thanks to all who brought the delicious side dishes and desserts to complement the game.

Thanks to those in the field: Norm Clark, Wayne "Cap" Holt, Jeff Theobald, Ken Black, Pat & Lucinda Marcoux, Dan Karapanagiotis, Jeremy Ruelas, Harold Hutchins, Billy Koski, Anthony Savat, and John Owens, as well as to those "back at the ranch": Al Bergeron, Mike Sorenson, Sharon Theobald, Bill Doherty, Randy Belmont, Chris Gordon, Jim Yurik, Chris Cook, and Jeff Theobald.

We hope we haven't missed anyone deserving credit for helping to make this year's Game Dinner such a success and a true reflection of the spirit and tradition we have at CPF&G. We hope that our hunters and fishermen will be blessed with good fortune this coming year so we may have another great Game Dinner next year.
