Politics & Legislation

by John Faro, Political Junkie

When the British daily newspaper “The Telegraph” asked readers which of six suggested measures they would like to see introduced in the House of Commons, reader response was surprisingly tilted toward one significant proposal, but you probably won’t hear about it from the U.S. media. Of the six suggestions that included setting a flat tax and placing a term limit on the office of Prime Minister, what drew more than 86 percent of the reader support was a proposal to REPEAL the handgun ban of 1997. Next time you run into an anti-gun fanatic who spews out the merits of gun control in Europe throw this number at him/her and watch the reaction. (Source: Second American Foundation 3rd quarter report 2013)

Hopefully by the time this is published the GOP will have grown a backbone and finally stood tall against Barack Obama. The one thing that really had me worried about the government shutdown, not a bad thing in my opinion, was the fact that people did not pay attention to any other issues such as gun control, UN small arms treaty, etc. This would have been an opportunity for Schumer, Pelosi, Holder, and company to try to pull a fast one and circumvent Congress once again to further their anti-gun agenda. As this article is being written none of my fears have come to fruition. Eternal vigilance is the price we all have to pay to keep these government jackals at bay.

Windham, NH residents: Did you have to wait more than 14 days to obtain a Pistol/Revolver License from the Chief of Police of Windham? If so, what date did you apply, and what date did the Chief of Police notify you in writing of a denial, or let you know your LTC was ready to be picked up? Please call Penny Dean at 603-230-9999 with this information or e-mail her at penny@pennydean.com. This law-breaking has to stop. It won’t stop unless YOU speak up! Information is power. (Source: Gun Owners of New Hampshire website)

There have been about 625 Legislative Service Requests filed so far for the 2014 legislative session of the New Hampshire House and Senate. The Legislative Committee of Gun Owners of New Hampshire (GONH) has started reviewing these LSR’s. We go through all of them word for word to determine if there is any adverse language to our Second Amendment rights on the national and/or state level. Obviously it takes a lot of time and effort for our volunteers to wade through all of this political jargon to root out the bad and support the good. As the political season advances check out the GONH website for updates on legislation and I will do my best to keep you informed via our club newsletter about the “Concord Shenanigans.” The GONH website is being extensively overhauled to make it a better and more user friendly site for all.

Elaine Andrews-Ahern, Rockingham County 37, Hampton Falls, NH. Remember this name. She has filed an LSR to require background checks for ALL firearms sales and also one relative to criminal background checks performed prior to the sale or TRANSFER of a firearm. Ms. Andrews-Ahern is a rising star in the Democrat Swamp currently infesting Concord.

Massachusetts: Gun Owner’s Action League (GOAL) is the official state firearms association in Massachusetts. They are an association of law-abiding citizens who believe in the basic right of firearms ownership for competition, recreation and self-protection. Why join GOAL? Every intrusion on our gun rights is an intrusion on all rights. The Constitutional rights and freedoms that you enjoy – and may take for granted – are becoming more fragile each day. Secure your rights for yourself, your family and future generations. Join GOAL and become part of the solution.

Firearms Trivia

- Skeet, in its early years called "round the clock" shooting, was devised in 1910 by C. E. Davies of Andover, MA, as a way to hone wingshooting skills. The name, chosen in a magazine contest, is an old Scandinavian form of the word shoot. Originally played through 360 degrees on a field, the original field was changed to the current partial arc to avoid bothering a nearby chicken farm.
- The stag with the most numerous antler points, 33 (plus 29), was shot by King Fredrick I of Prussia in 1696.
- The record for the most birds shot by one man in a lifetime is attributed to the 2nd Marquess of Ripon (1867-1923). He bagged 556,000 birds, 241,000 of which were pheasants. On the morning of September 22, 1923, he shot 52 birds, then himself fell dead on a grouse moor.
- The rifle used by Bob Lee Swagger, played by Mark Wahlberg, in the movie "Shooter" is a Cheyenne Tactical M200 Intervention.
- W. F. Carver, sharpshooter in the 1890s, shot at 63,625 wooden balls which were tossed before him for six days and nights. Carver hit 58,819.
- Ed McGivern shot a .45 five times from 15' into an area with a diameter of 1.1875". He accomplished this rapid-fire feat twice on August 20, 1932, at the Lead Club Range, SD.
- On November 13, 1955, J.J. Fenykovi of Hungary shot the largest animal ever slain by a big-game hunter. Forty-eight miles from Macusso, Angola, he killed a 24,000 lb. bull African elephant (Loxodonta africana). The kill required 16 large-caliber shells.
- Near Fairbanks, AK, Allen Dale Murphy killed two 2,000-lb. bison in one day, and he used only 2 bullets. At the time, he was only eight (8) years old.
- The first song played on Armed Forces Radio during operation Desert Shield was "Rock the Casbah" by the Clash.
- At the 1920 Olympic Games in Antwerp, Belgium, Swedish shooter Oscar Swahn narrowly missed a gold medal and finished with silver. He was 72 years old, the oldest Olympic medalist ever.
- Shooting has been part of the Summer Olympic Games ever since 1896, except in 1904 and 1928.
