Politics & Legislation

by John Faro, Political Junkie

Hope all have a Merry Christmas and enjoy a Happy, Healthy New Year. Just for the record, 2016 is a presidential election year, in case you forgot.

If you have been paying attention to the debates, both Republican and Democrat, you have a good idea of what is at stake this election cycle. Seven years of “leading from behind” have caused many problems this country has never before been subjected to. We all need to be involved this election cycle or we will all suffer the consequences.

The New Hampshire legislative session begins on 6 January. Last month I listed some of the Legislative Service Requests (LSRs) that state firearm organizations are watching with interest. The final wording of these proposed bills should be available by the first week of January. As stated in last month’s newsletter, the exact wording of the LSRs will determine if they will enhance or weaken our firearm rights.

Governor Hassan is running for the US Senate to unseat Senator Ayotte. My personal opinion is that the tag team of Shaheen/Hassan will not bode well for our collective concerns about firearm rights.

The current administration believes disarming American citizens is the way to protect them from our enemies foreign and domestic? If this makes any sense to someone out there please enlighten me when you are next at the club. We don’t need the tag team of S/H backing this administration’s position in its final year.

If you have any doubts that the Democrats are waging a war against our Second Amendments Rights feel free to email me at jpfaro@comcast.net with your explanation of how they are supporting our Constitutional rights. I have spent many hours reviewing the campaign rhetoric of all candidates, Democrat and Republican, and I don’t see a great deal of support from Democrats for our Second Amendment!

Massachusetts:
Commonwealth Second Amendment in Massachusetts president, Brent Carlton, summed up the political battles that have been waged in the state succinctly, “We’re famous for the shot heard ‘round the world, but you’d think that our legislature and judiciary kind of wish that was the last shot heard in Massachusetts”. GOAL (Gun Owners Action League) of Massachusetts publishes weekly updates about state legislation. It is a good way for our Massachusetts members to keep an eye on their elected officials.

We at Country Pond Fish & Game Club will do our best to keep all our members informed about legislation on either side of our southern border.

Once again, Happy and Healthy New Year to all in this coming election year.
